

PROCEEDINGS

10

1 bylaws that they followed. This was handled in a mom and
2 pop fashion where the Bloomberg Black Book was on the shelf
3 dusted.

4 THE COURT: Is there a family relationship between
5 the parties?

6 MR. HOLLANDER: No, there is not. Not that I know
7 of, Your Honor. They have been business partners going
8 back, I'm told, over 30 years. They are just business
9 partners. They both have done construction work as well.
10 They have experience with construction companies and
11 buildings and real estate developer type of businesses.

12 THE COURT: Okay. Do you know if your client has 13 received any profits or was asked to review the corporate
14 tax returns for the last couple of years?

15 MR. HOLLANDER: My client has not received a penny
16 in ten years.

17 THE COURT: Ten years.

18 MR. HOLLANDER: In ten years has not seen a tax
19 return in ten years.

20 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you, sir. Mr. Milazzo.

21 MR. MILAZZO: Yes. Thank you, Your Honor. Your
22 Honor, first off, my client, who I have had a brief
23 opportunity to speak with prior to this emergency
24 application, contests Ms. Vanna's -- she's referred to as 25 Vanna, Ms. Vanna's ownership interest in these entities.
